New Student
Orientation Program
Fall 2019
Dear New GS Student,

Welcome to the unique and gifted community that is GS: you are now fully and completely a student of Columbia University. Be proud of your accomplishments in the past and enjoy achieving even greater things both at Columbia and beyond. We will help you explore the many academic opportunities that Columbia offers and help you to achieve your academic goals.

We urge you to fully embrace the GS student community; you will learn as much from one another as you will from the amazing Columbia faculty. We cannot overstate what a significant contribution you make to the intellectual discourse on campus. In fact, you transform the Columbia experience into a far different one from all the other Ivy League classrooms because you add a dimension of diversity that the others lack—namely, diversity of age, experience, and insight.

Finally, if you commit yourself fully to your Columbia education, the experience will transform you. All of the deans and staff at GS work toward the same goal: to support you. So be proactive in accessing the many different resources available to you.

We look forward to welcoming you personally to the GS community.

Congratulations and best wishes,

The GS Dean of Students Office

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

MANDATORY ORIENTATION PROGRAMS
The mandatory programs during the New Student Orientation Program (NSOP) are dedicated to welcoming all new students to the School of General Studies and easing their transitions into this academic and social community. These sessions will provide resources that are important to your success at Columbia University.

ORIENTATION WEEK
NSOP events continue all week and into the weekend. These events are not mandatory; however, those that are planned—from social events to informative sessions and workshops—will help foster your success at Columbia University.

FOUR-SCHOOL PROGRAMS
Throughout NSOP there are joint four-school events for incoming undergraduate students in Barnard College (BC), Columbia College (CC), School of General Studies (GS), and The Fu Foundation School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS). Joint events are attended by incoming students from all four of the undergraduate schools at Columbia University.

ORIENTATION NAMETAG
When you attend any of the NSOP events, always wear your orientation nametag. If you do not have it, you will not be admitted.

ORIENTATION UPDATES
Because it is possible that events may be updated, please visit gs.columbia.edu/content/new-student-orientation regularly. Also, please refer to the Guidebook app for any schedule changes.

GS ORIENTATION CONTACT INFORMATION
For questions about GS Orientation please contact us.
Online: gs.columbia.edu/content/new-student-orientation
Email: gsorientation@columbia.edu
Office: GS Student Life, 308B Lewisohn Hall
Phone: 212-854-9536

SET UP YOUR COLUMBIA EMAIL
Activate your UNI account as soon as possible; this will provide you with access to multiple student services and online resources. Many classes post syllabi and readings on CourseWorks and require students to post written comments to a class bulletin board.

In addition, GS sends official notices about academic deadlines and policies, and school events to your Columbia email address. All emails to Columbia affiliates should be sent through your Columbia email, also known as LionMail. LionMail will be the primary method of communication between you and the University community. All pertinent information regarding academics, student life, and financial aid will be emailed to your LionMail account. Learn more about LionMail at cuit.columbia.edu/email/lionmail.
YOUR COLUMBIA ID CARD (CUID)
To obtain your official Columbia University student ID card, you must go to the ID Center in 204 Kent Hall after Orientation Day. A student services representative will take your photograph and print your CUID while you wait. Remember to bring a photo ID with you, such as your driver’s license.

Your CUID will provide access to many of Columbia’s buildings as well as the GS Lounge in Lewisohn Hall (if your card does not work, please go to 111A Low Memorial Library to have your card activated). You will also need your CUID for access to some campus events, and it can also be used for discounts at neighborhood stores, discounted tickets for movies and cultural events such as Broadway shows through Arts Initiative at Columbia University, and free entrance to various New York City museums. Getting your CUID should be a priority this week. Learn more at ssc.columbia.edu/id-center.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES
Butler Library, Columbia’s main library, contains reserve readings for most courses and is open this week. Before students return next week, we recommend that you visit the library and begin familiarizing yourself with the facilities. A library orientation session is highly recommended and is offered during the New Student Orientation Program.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES
Learn more about religious services at Columbia and the Office of the University Chaplain at ouc.columbia.edu.

NEW YORK CITY TRANSPORTATION
Bus and subway fares are $2.75 per ride. Buses only accept coins (no pennies or bills) or a MetroCard. MetroCards can be purchased at any subway station, including the 1 train station at 116th Street and Broadway. You can also get the 7-Day Unlimited Ride MetroCard for $33 or 30-Day Unlimited MetroCard for $127. There is a $1 fee for each new MetroCard purchased.

Additionally, transfers from bus to bus, subway to bus, or bus to subway are free for two hours by simply using the same MetroCard you used initially. You may not transfer from subway to bus or vice versa with single ride MetroCards. You can transfer between subway trains as long as you do not exit the turnstile. Learn more at mta.info.

DISABILITY AND ACCESSIBILITY
The Office of Disability Services facilitates equal access for students with disabilities by coordinating reasonable accommodations and support services. Reasonable accommodations are adjustments to policy, practice, and programs that provide equal access for students with disabilities. Examples include the administration of exams; services such as note-taking, sign language interpreters, and assistive technology; and coordination of accessible housing needs. Accommodation plans and services are custom designed to match the disability-related needs of each student and are determined according to documented needs and the student’s program requirements.

Registration includes submission of both the Application for Accommodations and Services and disability documentation. The application and disability documentation guidelines are available online and at Disability Services. Students are encouraged to register within the first two weeks of the semester to ensure that reasonable accommodations can be made for that term. Please note that students are not eligible to receive reasonable accommodations until the registration process is complete. Learn more at health.columbia.edu/content/disability-services.
MANDATORY GS UNDERGRADUATE ORIENTATION SCHEDULE

MONDAY, AUGUST 26, 2019

8:30 - 9 a.m.
Orientation Check-In and Breakfast
Rotunda, Low Library
Check in, pick up your Orientation materials, and enjoy breakfast with fellow incoming students and the GS Orientation Leaders (OLs).

9:30 - 10:30 a.m.
New Student Welcome
Low Plaza
Lee C. Bollinger, President, Columbia University
Lisa Rosen-Metsch, Dean, School of General Studies
Ivonne Rojas, Acting Dean of Students, School of General Studies
Damienne Harfouche ’14, General Studies Alumni Association (GSAA) Board Co-Chair
Christopher Thompson, President, General Studies Student Council
Britney Hatcher, VP of Community Relations, Premedical Association
Je Seung You, GS NSOP Student Chair

Administrators, alumni, and current student leaders will welcome you into the Columbia University community.
11 a.m. - 12:20 p.m.
Group Meeting with Your Academic Advisor
Various Locations, Lerner Hall and Low Library
Learn more about the ways in which your advisor can help you during your years at GS.

12:30 - 1:20 p.m.
Group Lunch Meeting with Your Orientation Leader
Lunch Locations by OL Group Number
Pick up your boxed lunch and then join your OL Group to mix and mingle with fellow new students; you will be joined by Orientation Leaders who will welcome you, answer questions, and share insights.

1:30 - 3:20 p.m.
Gender-Based Misconduct Resources
Locations by OL Group Number

Step UP! Preventing Sexual Assault and Violence through Bystander Intervention
Sexual violence encompasses a broad spectrum of behaviors that can have a negative impact on an individual and the Columbia University community. We all can play a part in developing and maintaining a healthy, safe community by looking out for one another. During this interactive session facilitated by Sexual Violence Response (SVR) staff and volunteers, students learn about the dynamics and realities of sexual assault, what it means to be a pro-social bystander, effective strategies for bystander intervention, and resources and services available for someone who is affected by violence.

Title IX Information Session
The Title IX Coordinator works to ensure a safe, welcoming, and harassment free-environment for all members of the Columbia community. During this session, you will learn about resources this office provides.

This event is a part of Live Well | Learn Well, which promotes strategies for individual well-being and a healthy undergraduate community.

AFTERNOON BREAKOUT SESSIONS
These brief breakout sessions are designed to give you more in-depth information about certain topics, activities, and resources.

3:30 - 4:20 p.m. – BREAKOUT SESSION I
Getting to Know the Columbia Faculty
Party Space, First Floor, Lerner Hall
Victoria Rosner, Dean of Academic Affairs
One of the main reasons students enroll at Columbia is to be taught by our internationally-recognized faculty. Many times, however, undergraduates feel intimidated by the very professors with whom they have come to study with. This workshop will cover the basics of appropriate student-professor etiquette (as well as the special role of teaching assistants), all of which will help you to establish cordial and professional interactions with members of the Columbia University faculty.
Online Resources at Columbia
Roone Arledge Cinema, Second Floor, Lerner Hall

Join Orientation Leaders, Peer Advisors, and the Academic Resource Center (ARC) team to learn how to navigate the online resources available to you as a Columbia student, including SSOL, CourseWorks, printing, and more.

Academic Planning Session (APS) for JTS Joint Program Students
568 Lerner Hall

During this mandatory session, GS/JTS Program students will receive information that will be relevant in preparation for meeting with GS academic advisors later in the week.

4:30 - 5:20 p.m. – BREAKOUT SESSION II

GS PANELS and STUDENT MEET & GREETS

The panels and meet & greets during this breakout session are hosted by GS undergraduate and Postbac Orientation Leaders who will share stories of their transitions to Columbia. They will discuss specific resources that helped them in their transitions and that may in turn help you.

Choose a session from the following list based on the area in which you think you will need the most support.

Working Students and Part-Time Students Meet & Greet
477 Lerner Hall

Learn more about how to manage your work, social, and academic life from students who are successfully balancing those responsibilities.

Community College Transfer Students Meet & Greet
Broadway Room, Second Floor, Lerner Hall

One of the things that many GS students have in common is that they started their academic career at community college. This session offers valuable information for a smooth transition from community college to Columbia University.

Get Involved: GS Student Life Information Session & Student Leaders Meet & Greet
Party Space, First Floor, Lerner Hall

Learn about all the ways you can get involved at Columbia, including clubs, special interest groups, sports, theatre, choirs, sororities, and fraternities, as well as the many enriching opportunities within GS itself.

Students with Families Meet & Greet
568 Lerner Hall

This workshop will cover a variety of Columbia University resources for students with families and children, and is offered by the Office of Work Life, the Office of the Dean of Students, Counseling and Psychological Services (CPS), and the Columbia University Family Support Network (CUFSN) student organization. In this session, current GS students will share their experiences being a parent and/or being married or in a serious relationship while attending Columbia.

This event is a part of Live Well | Learn Well, which promotes strategies for individual well-being and a healthy undergraduate community.
International Students Meet & Greet
569 Lerner Hall
Incoming international students will have the opportunity to meet each other and Orientation Leaders, as they learn about the Columbia community.

Veteran Students Meet & Greet
Satow Room, Fifth Floor, Lerner Hall
Meet current GS veteran students who have successfully transitioned to academic life after serving in the U.S. Armed Forces. This meet & greet will include remarks about succeeding at Columbia.

Science Faculty Panel Discussion
555 Lerner Hall
Students are invited to meet selected faculty members from the chemistry, physics, and biology departments to learn about Columbia’s premedical curriculum and how to succeed in these science courses.

6 - 8 p.m.
Welcome Party
Mel’s Burger Bar, 2850 Broadway at 110th Street
The Welcome Party is an opportunity to wind down, relax, and socialize. Complimentary food will be served.

This event is sponsored by the General Studies Student Council (GSSC).
9 - 9:30 a.m.

Breakfast
GS Lounge, Third Floor, Lewisohn Hall
Enjoy breakfast with fellow incoming students and the GS Orientation Leaders.

9:30 - 9:50 a.m.

Check-In
Locations by OL Group Number
Check-in is required for mandatory programs.

10 a.m. - 12:50 p.m.

Columbia University Resources and Policies
Faculty Room, Low Library
Sessions will be held concurrently with presenters rotating between locations.

Office of University Life / Individual Responsibility and Community Standards
This session will introduce you to the Office of University Life, which creates opportunities for university-wide conversations about important issues of our time that impact the Columbia community and world around us.

This important plenary session will review Columbia’s Rules of Conduct and Community Standards especially as they pertain to academic freedom, academic integrity, freedom of speech, and personal conduct.

Academic Resource Center (ARC) Information Session
Learn more about free tutoring, health and wellness resources, and academic support services, as well as practical tips and tools that will provide you with the confidence and direction to begin navigating your career as a student at GS.

This event is a part of Live Well | Learn Well, which promotes strategies for individual well-being and a healthy undergraduate community.

Focus on the Financials
Learn more about your financial responsibilities and the resources to help you budget and pay for your GS education. Topics include understanding your student account statement, late fees, and financial planning and advising.

This event is a part of Live Well | Learn Well, which promotes strategies for individual well-being and a healthy undergraduate community.

1 - 2:30 p.m.

Group Lunch Meeting with Your Orientation Leader
GS Lounge, Third Floor, Lewisohn Hall
Pick up your boxed lunch and then join your OL Group to mix and mingle with fellow new students; you will be joined by Orientation Leaders who will welcome you, answer questions, and share insights.
ORIENTATION WEEK SCHEDULE

TUESDAY, AUGUST 27, 2019

2:30 - 7 p.m.
Mingle with the GS Orientation Leaders and Peer Advisors
GS Lounge, Third Floor, Lewisohn Hall

Stop by the GS Lounge between Orientation events to mingle with GS Orientation Leaders and Peer Advisors to get answers to your questions about your transition to Columbia. OLs and Peer Advisors will also be available to answer questions about electronic resources (including SSOL and CourseWorks) that are available to you as a Columbia student. Coffee and snacks will be served.

3 - 5 p.m.
Academic Resources Fair
Roone Arledge Auditorium, First Floor, Lerner Hall

This is your opportunity to begin navigating the vast academic resources available to you as a Columbia student. Meet faculty representatives from every academic department, program, and advising office. Ask questions, get program information and materials, explore opportunities to learn or continue your studies in more than 50 languages, and learn about upcoming academic events.

This is a joint four-school event for incoming students in Barnard College (BC), Columbia College (CC), the School of General Studies (GS), and the School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS).
4 - 5:20 p.m.
Center for Career Education Information Session
203 Mathematics Building
Join the Center for Career Education and the GS Office of Educational Financing to learn about Columbia resources and services to help you identify your interests, explore career options, connect with employers and alumni.

5:30 - 6:45 p.m.
Being a Successful Writer at Columbia
207 Mathematics Building
This workshop shares research on how successful undergraduate writers approach their assignments. You will learn about the kinds of writing assigned in University Writing classes and the resources available for helping you develop as a writer.

7 - 7:30 p.m.
New Student Pizza Night
GS Lounge, Third Floor, Lewisohn Hall
Before the Speed Meeting Party, we will be serving delicious New York City pizza. Get to know your fellow incoming GS students as well as the GS Orientation Leaders.

7:30 - 8:30 p.m.
Speed Meeting
GS Lounge, Third Floor, Lewisohn Hall
GS Speed Meeting is the best place to meet your fellow new GS Postbac Premed and undergrad students, as well as the GS Orientation Leaders in a very short amount of time. You will spend two minutes telling someone about yourself and then spend two minutes learning about them.

10 p.m. - 12 a.m.
Community Unscripted: Athletics
Diana Center Lower Level 2 Lobby, Barnard College
Students who have questions about getting involved on campus are invited to join informal gatherings Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday night for casual conversations with current and new Barnard and Columbia students. From activism, to STEM, to the performing arts, meet new and current students who are also interested in what you are passionate about. Most students forget that the Ivy League is just a sports conference and Columbia has sports available for all types of students, from our Division I teams to club sports.

This is a joint four-school event for incoming students in Barnard College (BC), Columbia College (CC), the School of General Studies (GS), and the School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS).
10 p.m. - 12 a.m.
Community Unscripted: Research
Diana Center 203, Barnard College

Students who have questions about getting involved on campus are invited to join informal gatherings Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday night for casual conversations with current and new Barnard and Columbia students. From activism, to STEM, to the performing arts, meet new and current students who are also interested in what you are passionate about. Our university is a leading research institution with many opportunities for undergraduates to work on research projects or be involved in a lab. Come talk to our OLs involved in research and ask about how to get involved.

This is a joint four-school event for incoming students in Barnard College (BC), Columbia College (CC), the School of General Studies (GS), and the School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS).

How to Succeed in Math and Science Courses
614 Schermerhorn
Join GS undergraduate premed students, GS Postbac Premed students, the ARC team, and advisors from the Dean of Students Office, who will share their insights on how to succeed in math and the gateway sciences at Columbia.

9:15 - 10:15 a.m.
Graduate School Support Information Session
310 Fayerweather
Learn about the resources that GS offers as you consider whether or not graduate or professional school may be a destination on your educational or career trajectory. This session will provide you with information about when to start thinking about graduate school, how to plan, as well as the role GS can play in your graduate and professional school journey.

10:30 - 11:15 a.m.
Fellowships Information Session
614 Schermerhorn
Learn about outside sources of funding that are available to sponsor research, urban politics and policy, travel abroad and more. During this session, you will receive information about how to investigate fellowship options, create persuasive proposals, and become a plausible fellowship candidate.

10:30 - 11:15 a.m.
Health and Wellness: Staying Healthy and Balanced at Columbia
310 Fayerweather
Learn about the myriad resources available to Columbia students to help them manage stress and stay healthy, both physically and emotionally. This session will help students understand how to access helpful resources on campus.

This event is a part of Live Well | Learn Well, which promotes strategies for individual well-being and a healthy undergraduate community.
11:30 a.m. - 12:15 p.m.
Disability Services Information Session
310 Fayerweather

Learn about how the Office of Disability Services (DS) can support students on campus.

This event is a part of Live Well | Learn Well, which promotes strategies for individual well-being and a healthy undergraduate community.

11:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.
Meet the GS Peer Advisors
GS Lounge, Third Floor, Lewisohn Hall

Attend a meet and greet with the GS Peer Advisors, who are one of your most valuable resources for a successful first year at Columbia. The GS Peer Advisors are student leaders who are specifically trained to serve throughout the year as an advising resource to incoming students. Coffee and snacks will be served.

This event is a part of Live Well | Learn Well, which promotes strategies for individual well-being and a healthy undergraduate community.

12:30 - 1:45 p.m.
Decoding the Syllabus
614 Schermerhorn

The Change of Program Period is short, and it can be hard to get a read on a class from only one or two meetings. Join the ARC team to learn how to use your syllabi to get a better understanding of each of your classes, so that you know what to expect and can make informed decisions about your schedule.

12:30 - 5 p.m.
Mingle with the GS Orientation Leaders and Peer Advisors
GS Lounge, Third Floor, Lewisohn Hall

Stop by the GS Lounge between Orientation events to mingle with GS Orientation Leaders and Peer Advisors and to get answers to your questions about your transition to Columbia. OLs and Peer Advisors will also be available to answer questions about electronic resources (including SSOL and CourseWorks) that are available to you as a Columbia student. Coffee and snacks will be served.

2 - 2:45 p.m.
Premedical, Predental, Preveterinary, and Allied Health Fields Information Session
614 Schermerborn

This is a mandatory meeting for students who intend to apply to medical, dental, and veterinary school or graduate programs in allied health fields. The session will cover academic and non-academic requirements for admission and letters of recommendation from the GS Premedical Committee.

2 - 3:15 p.m.
Study Abroad Information Session
310 Fayerweather

Led by the GS study abroad advisors, this information session will introduce students to the international opportunities available.

GS Lounge, Third Floor, Lewisohn Hall

Discover more about Columbia University’s history, architecture, famous alumni, folklore, and favorite study spots on a GS student-led tour through the Morningside campus.

3:30 - 4:45 p.m.
This Place Called Columbia
614 Schermerhorn

This place called Columbia can be hard to navigate, especially for those of us who are new to higher education. Join staff from the GS Academic Resource Center (ARC) for a crash course in who’s who, what’s what, and what to expect in your first week of classes.

5 - 5:45 p.m.
Multicultural Meet and Greet
308A Lewisohn Hall

Mingle and connect with students and administrators who identify as having traditionally underrepresented backgrounds. Snacks will be served.

This event is a part of Live Well | Learn Well, which promotes strategies for individual well-being and a healthy undergraduate community.

5 - 5:45 p.m.
The Columbia Core Curriculum
614 Schermerborn

Since its inception almost 100 years ago, the Columbia Core Curriculum has become one of the defining features of a Columbia undergraduate education. Its mission is to provide students with wide-ranging perspectives on significant ideas and achievements in literature, philosophy, history, music, art, and science. All of the courses in the Columbia Core are open to GS students, and some are required. Come hear about the Columbia Core and how it might fit into your GS educational experience.

6 - 7 p.m.
GS Mentors Program Information Session
308A Lewisohn Hall

You are invited to learn about the GS Mentor Program, which pairs incoming students with upper-class GS students. Find out about the ways in which having a Mentor can assist you in connecting with the Columbia and GS community. Coffee and snacks will be served.

This event is a part of Live Well | Learn Well, which promotes strategies for individual well-being and a healthy undergraduate community.

7 - 8 p.m.
New Student Dinner
GS Lounge, Third Floor, Lewisohn Hall

Pick up your dinner and then join your OL Group to mix and mingle with fellow new students; you will be joined by Orientation Leaders who will welcome you, answer questions, and share insights.
CU gLow
Low Plaza

It’s time to find your groove and light up the Manhattan sky with your very own glow stick party on Low Plaza. Come celebrate your first week on campus with a four-school gathering to showcase the possibilities of finding your groove here at Barnard and Columbia. Glow up, dance, play games, or relax while having the time of your lives with new friends and a colorful campus alit by your rhythm and light.

This is a joint four-school event for incoming students in Barnard College (BC), Columbia College (CC), the School of General Studies (GS), and the School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS).

Starlight Game Night

Community Unscripted: Visual Arts
Diana Center 501, Barnard College

Students who have questions about getting involved on campus are invited to join informal gatherings Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday night for casual conversations with current and new Barnard and Columbia students. From activism, to STEM, to the performing arts, meet new and current students who are also interested in what you are passionate about. Whether you’re a filmmaker, a photographer, a painting enthusiast, a chalk drawer, or really anything else under the sun, you can find a space for you at the table at this Community Unscripted! Share your latest work with others or discuss the best spots to capture the beauty of the city or ask questions on how to get actors involved in your projects here!

This is a joint four-school event for incoming students in Barnard College (BC), Columbia College (CC), the School of General Studies (GS), and the School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS).
Community Unscripted: Volunteering

Diana Center 504, Barnard College

Students who have questions about getting involved on campus are invited to join informal gatherings Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday night for casual conversations with current and new Barnard and Columbia students. From activism, to STEM, to the performing arts, meet new and current students who are also interested in what you are passionate about. For most people, coming to a new space and a new city means finding new spaces to volunteer. This Community Unscripted is meant to help students talk to Columbia Urban Experience volunteers to find spaces to help out throughout the city within the local neighborhood in many different areas around the city.

This is a joint four-school event for incoming students in Barnard College (BC), Columbia College (CC), the School of General Studies (GS), and the School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS).

GS PLACEMENT EXAMS

Many incoming GS students will be required to take the placement exams in quantitative reasoning, mathematics, and/or chemistry. Placement exams are instrumental in establishing a student’s level of proficiency in these subjects. The results of these exams determine a student’s accurate placement in Columbia courses. Please consult with your academic advisor to confirm if you are required to take any of these exams.

Placement exams in mathematics and chemistry are now being administered online. To register, visit gs.columbia.edu/content/placement-exams.

If you are interested in a placement exam for quantitative reasoning, please email gs-arc@columbia.edu.

Important Notes
- There are no practice exams for the placement exams. Students should refer to the relevant placement exam page(s) for information about topics that will be covered.
- Students will receive their placement exam scores immediately following the completion of the exams.
- Students who have questions after receiving their results should follow up with their academic advisor.
- Students are allowed to register for courses contingent upon the outcome of a placement exam. Students who do not receive the required score for a given course will be required to modify their registration.
- Any required placement exams must be completed prior to the start of the semester.

Testing Accommodations for Students with Disabilities
In some cases, students with disabilities are entitled to accommodations related to administration of examinations, including placement exams. Such accommodations must be specified as well as authorized by the Columbia University Office of Disability Services, based on an assessment of the disability and appropriate documentation. Once all required documentation is received, the authorization process can often take a month, so please plan appropriately.

Students with learning disabilities or other disabilities that may warrant an accommodation should contact the Office of Disability Services.

Note: Students who take a placement exam through the Office of Disability Services will receive their scores within 24-48 hours via email. For more information, please visit health.columbia.edu/content/disability-services.
DEPARTMENTAL PLACEMENT EXAMS

If you are interested in taking advanced courses or placing out of a required class, you should plan to take the relevant placement exams listed on the website below. Test results determine the appropriate course with which to begin.

Please note that some exams may require that you register in advance with the department administering the exam. Additionally, high SAT II or AP scores may exempt you from placement exams; be sure to check with your academic advisor for confirmation. For exams that do not provide a time, or to verify the time and location, contact the appropriate department for details.

For the complete University placement exam schedule, please visit gs.columbia.edu/content/university-wide-placement-exams.
